

2016

Chateau La Chèze

Cotes de Bordeaux

WINE ENTHUSIAST
Editor's
Choice

Touches of new wood give this wine a perfumed, minty character as well as weight and concentration. It is a rich Merlot-dominated wine from Jean-François Rontein's Capian slope vines, with a firm character that points up the need for aging. The dry core allied to the ripe tannins suggest the wine will not be ready before 2022.

Roger Voss, European Editor, Reviews from Portugal and France

Varietal Breakdown:

70% Merlot
20% Cabernet Franc
10% Cabernet Sauvignon

LuneauUSA.com

2016

Chateau La Chèze

Cotes de Bordeaux

WINE ENTHUSIAST
Editor's
Choice

Touches of new wood give this wine a perfumed, minty character as well as weight and concentration. It is a rich Merlot-dominated wine from Jean-François Rontein's Capian slope vines, with a firm character that points up the need for aging. The dry core allied to the ripe tannins suggest the wine will not be ready before 2022.

Roger Voss, European Editor, Reviews from Portugal and France

Varietal Breakdown:

70% Merlot
20% Cabernet Franc
10% Cabernet Sauvignon

LuneauUSA.com

2016

Chateau La Chèze

Cotes de Bordeaux

WINE ENTHUSIAST
Editor's
Choice

Touches of new wood give this wine a perfumed, minty character as well as weight and concentration. It is a rich Merlot-dominated wine from Jean-François Rontein's Capian slope vines, with a firm character that points up the need for aging. The dry core allied to the ripe tannins suggest the wine will not be ready before 2022.

Roger Voss, European Editor, Reviews from Portugal and France

Varietal Breakdown:

70% Merlot
20% Cabernet Franc
10% Cabernet Sauvignon

LuneauUSA.com

2016

Chateau La Chèze

Cotes de Bordeaux

WINE ENTHUSIAST
Editor's
Choice

Touches of new wood give this wine a perfumed, minty character as well as weight and concentration. It is a rich Merlot-dominated wine from Jean-François Rontein's Capian slope vines, with a firm character that points up the need for aging. The dry core allied to the ripe tannins suggest the wine will not be ready before 2022.

Roger Voss, European Editor, Reviews from Portugal and France

Varietal Breakdown:

70% Merlot
20% Cabernet Franc
10% Cabernet Sauvignon

LuneauUSA.com